African Literature Association The Flora Nwapa Society Membership Form

The Flora Nwapa Society is an international organization affiliated with the African Literature Association. The primary goals of the association are to preserve and to promote meaningful research pertaining to Flora Nwapa and her creative production. The Flora Nwapa Society is committed to increasing awareness of and scholarship about Flora Nwapa as a major African woman novelist, dramatist, essayist, fiction writer, poet, publisher, politician and writer of children's books in the 20th century. In honor of Africa's first female novelist and publisher of the Anglophone African world, The Flora Nwapa Award will recognize an individual who has distinguished oneself in writing and publishing in Africa or in the African Diaspora. The Flora Nwapa Award is also open to academics and to public figures, such as managing directors, politicians, foundation heads, journalists, filmmakers, and individuals from the world of arts and entertainment. Suggestions for the 2024 Flora Nwapa Award are welcomed. Letters of nomination should include the full name, e-mail, and mailing address of the nominee, a list of the candidate's major works, accomplishments, and publications. A statement of 250 words is required. Letters of nomination should be addressed to Dr. Marie Umeh's e-mail address: msumeh@aol.com by March 1, 2024.
